

Grand Jury Committee Knocks Supervisor Pay Boost

By DICK OSBORN

"In view of . . . legislation pending at the State level, it is felt by this committee that no recommendation for change in salary rate should be entertained for position of (county) supervisor this year."

So stated the interim report of the Contra Costa Grand Jury committee on Audit and Finance. In a careful study of the pay schedule and duties of members of the board of supervisors, the committee noted:

• BOARDS OF SUPERVISORS are becoming policy making group rather than actual administrative bodies.

• Serious consideration should be given to the contention that it is necessary to compete in terms of salary to fill policy group positions with the higher rates prevailing for managerial positions.

• In addition to base salary, a car is furnished by the county for official use, office quarters are supplied in county buildings or at county expense, clerical aid is provided and actual expenses are reimbursed up to a limit of five per cent of salary. Litigation is pending that will remove this limitation on expenses.

The salary for supervisors was set at $8400 per year in 1957 and became effective for newly elected supervisors January 1, 1958.

THE LEGAL technicality which delays the effective date of increase for incumbent supervisors during the current term creates a period of temporary disparity in which the new inexperienced su-perisors are receiving a higher salary than the senior members of the board.

The two junior members of the board are receiving $8400 per year, while the other three supervisors are getting $7200 per year and will not become eligible for increase until and unless re-elected for terms commencing January 1960.

Legislation is pending which would increase the rate for supervisors of fifth class counties to $8900.

THE COMMITTEE noted salaries in other major counties including Fresno, $7200; Marin, $8400; Merced, $6000; Riverside, $8400, and others.

The committee reported: "In considering the desirability of such sweeping change (increasing salary to $9600) the members of the legislature are enjoined to consider certain principles and relationships which have heretofore been considered sound public policy, and whether those principles should be altered or preserved in the public interest."

"In the past supervisors have been charged with duties of two types: (1) legislative (investigative, deliberative, policy making) and (2) executive (directive, administrative)."

In recent years, and with currently increasing tempo boards of supervisors are assuming a role more consistently as policy making groups, thus linking public sentiment to the machinery of government through elections and continuing public contact.

"MANY LEGAL requirements necessitating board action remain, but the question of time input requirement and nature of the job should be most carefully reviewed before legislating sweeping increases.

"It is a fact that remuneration to policy making groups and for elective offices has been traditionally much less than for professional managerial positions.

"It should be noted that such (board) positions have been filled by persons with some outside source of income and livelihood. Unquestionably this has placed some limitation on who could afford to serve in such offices.

"Against this traditional position must be weighed the frequently expressed sentiments favoring a semi-professional or professional policy making body in government."

"BEFORE ADOPTING such policy in fact through the setting of attractive salary rates the legislature should fully determine public sentiment for such a policy."

"If adopted, then concurrent steps to establish professional standards of training and experience for such offices should be taken by the legislature."

And Another Winner Shows In Sun Commute Contest

Mrs. Charles R. Ross, 1080 Brown Avenue, Lafayette, climbed into the Sun Lucky Commuter Contest winner's circle this week and collected $5 and a subscription to The Sun for her trouble.

In so doing she joined previous winners John E. Newstrom of Alamo and Miss Lorraine Ensher of Lafayette. Each week a picture of a Lucky Sun Commuter is printed in The Sun and each week a $5 prize and a year's subscription to The Sun is presented to the winner—if he or she will come into The Sun office and identify himself—or herself, as the case may be.

AND THERE'S MORE. Each week five license numbers are printed and to each of the owners of the license numbers goes a $5 cash prize and a year's subscription to The Sun.

And Sun photographer Rod Lomas has been a busy lad, catching shots of unaware commuters as they board their buses or ride to and from work in their cars.

SOME OF THE pictures have been taken in Orinda, some in Lafayette and some in Walnut Creek, and there is no telling where the next commuter will come from.

So keep your eyes on The Sun. Your picture or your license number may be there.

And you or one of your neighbors may be the next winner!

Supervisor Raise Leaps First Bar

It looks like Contra Costa County supervisors will get a raise, according to action this week in the California State Assembly.

A bill introduced by Assemblyman S. C. Masterson of El Sobrante to increase the supervisors' annual salary from $8400 to $9600 passed the Assembly Tuesday.

It now goes to the Senate for action.

Under terms of the bill supervisors would qualify for a new raise at the start of new terms.

Supervisors Warren G. Buchanan, Mel Nielsen and Joseph Silva would become eligible in 1960 if they are re-elected.

Supervisors Fail To Rename Gill To Housing Board

A 19-year tenure on the board of the Contra Costa Housing Authority ended Tuesday for Gerould Gill when the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors failed to re-appoint him to the post.

Instead, the board named Angelo V. Davi, 53, a Pittsburg building contractor, to a four-year term.

Gill has been under the scrutiny of the Contra Costa Grand Jury since articles in The Sun indicated a possible conflict of interest between his operation of the Marsh Creek Lodge and his position on the board of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District.

Gill is the second original board member who failed to receive re-appointment this year. George H. Weise of Martinez lost his position last January.

THE GRAND JURY in January ordered Gill to make restitution of $685.25 he received in overdrawn traveling expenses as a housing commissioner.

This action also followed stories in The Sun. The jury said that it found no evidence of criminal intent, and the money was paid back at four per cent interest.

The following month, the grand jury probed the fire district and reported that the county was paying salaries to Gill's wife and sons for services as fire dispatcher and firemen.

THE GRAND JURY again found that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant any criminal charges, but criticized Gill for "some instances of exercising poor judgement."

Gill has also announced that he plans to retire as chief and chairman of the board of the fire district on June 30.

Gill commented on the board's action by saying, "I feel a little hurt that they would do a thing like that, but I guess that's politics."

He noted that during his tenure the authority has built up a budget surplus of $600,000.

Davi was nominated to the housing authority by Supervisor Warren G. Buchanan of Pittsburg.

WE HOPE to have the preliminary budget printed and issued by June 1," he said, pointing out this would be earlier than in years past.

Last year the preliminary budget was issued August 15.

The stepped-up schedule will result in less precise figures, McBrien said.

Budget estimates this year have been prepared from groundwork of actual 1958-59 expenditures through March 31, and include estimated expenditures for the final three months of the current fiscal year.

"THEREFORE we do not have precise carry-over balances," McBrien noted.

"We could wait until July 15 for issuance of preliminary budget figures and get actual statistics," he said, adding that preliminary figures are being prepared with a July 1 deadline in mind for the tentative budget "are within a reasonable range of precision."

The strikingly contemporary design of the edifice has attracted much attention during its construction.

Designed by the architectural firm of White, Herndon, and Steingau of San Francisco, the building cost $346,000.

FOUR HUNDRED and twenty persons can sit in the pews and choir loft but capacity can be extended to provide seating for 600.

A new and enlarged Fellowship Hall is planned for the future.

The Reverend Chauncey Blossom is minister of the congregation which has a membership of more than 700 adults.

First services in the new building will be at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m.

The sermon topic for Mr. Blossom is "In the Beginning."

The dedication ceremonies will begin at 4 p.m., with Dr. Stuart LeRoy Anderson as guest speaker.

The senior and junior choirs will sing.

A reception will be held after the dedication service.

$2.40 Rate Necessary To Meet Record Budget

The Contra Costa County basic tax rate in 1959-60 will be pegged at about $2.40 for each $100 of assessed valuation, says County Administrator Joseph P. McBrien.

This would represent an increase of 11 cents over the present basic rate of $2.29. It also will be worked into a record tentative county budget.

The 1959-60 budget now stands at just under $37 million, despite efforts of the County Board of Supervisors to "cut it to the quick" in economy moves.

LAST ACTION of the board was to lop off more than 3 1/2 million from departmental requests, according to McBrien, who adds that the basic tax rate forecast of $2.40 is a "rough approximation."

The $2.40 figure includes the county library rate, which is 10 cents this year, but may be higher during the next fiscal year.

It might go up another cent, McBrien indicated.

Recent budget deliberations included civil service commission recommendations on county employee pay raises and fringe benefits as a key factor in overall estimates.

McBRIEN SAID that commission recommendations, including one-step, or five per cent, increases for nearly two-thirds of county employees, and ten per cent or two-step raises for almost one-third—and also upping county shares in employee health and welfare plan premiums from 50 to 75 per cent—mean that a $76,000 figure would go up to about $85,000 when retirement figures were added.

The $2.40 tax rate forecast is based on a possible 40 million dollar increase in countywide assessed valuation, McBrien pointed out.

Current assessments bring the total valuation figure to $741,457,115—so a $40 million increase would bring the tax rolls up to about $781 1/2 million, McBrien said.

"WE HOPE to have the preliminary budget printed and issued by June 1," he said, pointing out this would be earlier than in years past.

Latest budget cuts by administrators have included lop-offs in public works, county hospital and welfare fields.

In public works $400,000 has been knocked off a contemplated $500,000 figure to bring a total revolving figure down to $100,000.

SOME $255,000 also was removed from county hospital plans. Part of this sum had been earmarked for a $225,000 geriatric wing plus equipment.

"Knocking this down doesn't mean that we are abandoning the project, but we'll have to look toward other means of financing," McBrien said.

Finally almost $1,000,000 was cut from social service departmental requests.

Social services usually accounts for about 40 per cent of the county budget, McBrien said, adding that such expenditures are two-thirds reimbursed by the federal and state governments.

THE MILLION-DOLLAR slash, therefore, would result in a saving of only one-third that sum for the county.

The proposed budget contains funds for several capital improvements, including a boys' rehabilitation center near Byron and a control tower at Buchanan Field.

Both already are under construction—and the new budget also contains some $40,000 for airport drainage surveys by the department of public works.

No funds are provided for a terminal building and to a taxi lot at the airport. Also left out is provision for construction of a south wing for the County Administration Building in Martinez.

PROVIDED FOR, however, are provisions for a "nominal payment" to an architect for plans for the wing, which was authorized by supervisors several weeks ago.

Construction arrangements on the wing for the county building probably will occur in a May 1960 fiscal year, McBrien said.

McBrien added, however, that he did not know whether financing would be by pay-as-you-go methods or by lease-purchase arrangements or by bond issue.

The budget formerly stood at $32,292,403, according to a May 13 announcement by McBrien.

THIS FIGURE did not include "up for consideration" salary increases and fringe benefits for employees. Left out, too, were unappropriated reserves for the general fund and the library fund, and a proposed highway revolving fund and several capital improvement jobs.

Addition of these items brought the budget estimate up to $40,532,408.

This would mean an indicated tax rate of $2.73 per $100 of assessed valuation, presuming $40 million increase in assessed valuation.

With the $3,558,628 taken away from the total budget estimate, it was reduced to the present $36,973,780 figure.

This brought the basic tax figure down to $2.40, where it now stands.

Let's Move, Says Fire Commission

East Contra Costa Fire District commissioners Monday asked the Board of Supervisors for permission to move their district headquarters from Marsh Creek Springs to the county prison farm on Marsh Creek Road.

The proposed move, commissioners said, would require construction of a building at the prison farm, but would include all equipment now at the Marsh Creek location.

Commissioners said the change would improve district efficiency by providing 24-hour radio communication monitored by sheriff's office radio dispatchers at the prison farm.

Too Soon Yet For Golf Count, Say Realtors

Takes a little while to figure golf scores—especially when the "figgerer" is recuperating from a bang-up tourney and barbecue, says the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

The board is referring to the recent golf tournament held in conjunction with its recent quarterly breakfast held at the Rancho El Nido in Lafayette.

We'll have those scores next week for sure, says the board.

Tournament affairs were handled by Doug Weeks and Ray Devin, chairmen. The barbecue was put on—cooked by, that is—Bill Hayward and Hageman.

Other hard workers, says the board, were Mike Mulvihill, Sherman Hathaway, Dan Boyle, Frank Curtis and Dick Janssen. Harry Davis did all planning and preliminary work for the tournament.

Arts and Crafts Commencement Set for Today

Harris King Prior, director of the American Federation of Arts, New York City, will give the commencement address at the California College of Arts and Crafts, Oakland.

Prior will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Fine Arts at the college's 52nd commencement to be held Friday at 7:30 p.m., on the campus.

The college will hold open house in all of its studios tomorrow and Sunday.

The public is cordially invited to visit the campus at that time.

Tonight, Tomorrow Are Last Chance at Rivals

"Stated simply, it is a corkin' good production of a play that stands up rather well after all these years."

And with these well-chosen words, the Berkeley Daily Gazette, one of the metropolitan papers which waxed enthusiastic about the Dramateur production of "The Rivals," called attention to the fact that an outstanding evening at the theatre is available right in our own back yard.

But it won't be there long. Tonight and tomorrow night mark the final performances of this bit of restoration comedy at Lafayette's Town Hall.

PILING ON the blaudits, the Gazette continued, "The Company is blessed with a better than average group of actors and actresses who rise to the problems of their roles admirably."

And commenting on the difficulties of presenting the play, the Gazette says, "Carl Rasmussen has given the 184-year-old play a spritely direction and it is well paced—no mean accomplishment for five acts and 12 scenes."

THE OAKLAND Tribune, another metropolitan daily newspaper, also climbed on the bandwagon commenting, "In the Dramateurs' staging, director Carl Rasmussen knew what he was about when he cast veteran performer Patricia Winkworth as Mrs. Malaprop. This exceptionally talented actress plays the role to its comic hilt, tripping with gay assurance over the fascinating lingual mistakes, saying what she doesn't mean with all the fluttery authority she can command."

So if you want an opportunity to see—and enjoy—for yourself, hie down to Lafayette Town Hall tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p.m. before the last curtain goes up.

Sleepy Hollow Will Fight Road Plan

By JACK SEYMOUR

Hollow, widening and extending other streets in that area. Opposition to creation of through roads in Sleepy Hollow development is being vigorously opposed by the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association.

The group is calling on all Sleepy Hollow residents to write the county planning commission and attend a hearing set for Tuesday, June 30, in Martinez.

Representatives of the association appeared at a meeting last week to put forth their views concerning the proposed Orinda General Plan.

COUNTY planners made no decision about recommending adoption of the General Plan at that time and set June 30 as date for another hearing.

Eighty residents had unanimously adopted a resolution opposing aspects of the General will be an influx of campers, fishermen and tourists."

If picturesque Sleepy Hollow roads are widened, he spokesmen said, beautiful trees will be cut down and the charming lane will become "super speedways."

"There must be a solution to this potential menace to life and limb," he said.

Improvement association officials, however, said that they do not want to "get into a big fight with the county."

One said, "We don't want to fight progress and we don't want to be accused of blocking access to a park or anything else."

"BUT THERE must be a way to divert traffic around Sleepy Hollow."

A pessimistic property owner predicted immediate decline in property values and serious traffic and safety conditions.

The planning staff of the commission has been asked by the association to investigate alternatives to the proposed road connections.

At the May 26 commission meeting, planners said that if Lombardy Lane were cut through to Happy Valley Road the lane would be widened.

Recommendations concerning the Orinda Master Plan will be made to the County Board of Supervisors some time after the June 30 hearing.

Further hearings will be heard by the supervisors.

Association officials asked Sleepy Hollow residents to write

Hall of Records, Martinez, expressing individual opposition to the proposed road extension and widening.

John DenDulk and Jack Helms presented the association arguments against road extensions at the May 26 meeting.

Approximately 40 residents of Sleepy Hollow also attended.

DUE TO construction of the Briones Dam by the East Bay Municipal Utility District, Bear Creek Road is no more.

The association has asked that Bear Creek be replaced with a road "that has adequate capacity for through traffic."

THERE IS a possibility the association will call another meeting of the organization prior to the June 30 planning commission hearing, a member said.

William Brobeck is president of the organization and Paul Stafford is vice president.

Richard Leland is secretary and Lewis Parce, treasurer.

Mailing address of the association is P. O. Box 71, Orinda.

Deodar Tree Is Planted by Blue Bird Girls

Three Blue Bird groups at Glorietta School the Red Vested Blue Bird group led by Mrs. L. W. Niemi, the Learning Blue Bird group led by Mrs. R. I. Copenhagen, and the Blue Star Bird group led by Mrs. Gertrude Rands, planted a deodar tree at their school last week.

They are participating in the conservation program of the National Camp Fire Girls.

John E. Clark, Glorietta's principal, and several of the mothers of the Blue Birds' were present.

Everyone helped with the planting by throwing on a shovelful of soil.

KISSI Rands, a two-year member of the Blue Star Blue Bird group, in the dedication speech said:

"As we plant this tree we hope it will grow tall and strong and as it grows we hope the Blue Birds at Glorietta School will grow."

First Grads Ready for Miramonte Senior Week

One hundred and sixty five Miramonte High School seniors will graduate in ceremonies to be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at the school.

This is Miramonte's first graduating senior class.

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday at 8 p.m., also at the school, marking the beginning of senior week at the Orinda campus.

PROUD AND happy Miramonte seniors will hold their all-night party at the Lake Merritt Hotel, Oakland, on graduation night.

Sponsored and paid for by equally proud parents, the all-night party promises an evening of great fun for the seniors.

Entertainment will be by The Eastman Trio. Dances will be performed by The Cliffords.

There will be a game room. Bingo will be played as well as ping pong and other games.

PRIZES WILL be awarded in various categories. There are tentative plans for a magic show and glimpses into the future by a "genuine" fortune teller.

All seniors are expected to be on hand for the big event . . . a night to remember.

Two Miramonte Students Will Summer Abroad

David Dail and Robert Newman, Miramonte High School juniors, will spend the summer abroad as exchange students under the auspices of the American Field Service.

The destination of young Newman has not been disclosed. He is also 16, the son of Professor and Mrs. Frank C. Newman of 55 Acacia Drive.

Special Meeting Called by New Chamber Head

An Orinda Chamber of Commerce special meeting will be held Tuesday to plan a vigorous program for the coming year.

The directors will meet at the call of James R. Lucas, newly-elected president of the group.

PLANS FOR the future were outlined by Lucas at a meeting held last Tuesday at Casa Orinda.

This was an election meeting which put into office William Pope, vice president, and re-elected Clarence Betz secretary-treasurer.

New directors are William Saunders, Ken White, Chet Clark, Ken Courtwright, John Hall and John Odgen, outgoing president.

One of the committees proposed by Lucas is a community zoning group; another in an improvement committee.

A planned program of guest speakers will be presented at least once a month, Lucas promised.

Ogden reported that a long period of negotiation is coming up in attempts to solve the parking problem.

The Tuesday meeting will begin at 12 noon at Casa Orinda.

St. Mary's Minor Sports Season Ends; Hit Books

With finals upon them the Saint Mary's athletes have deserted the playing fields to hit the books. They have left a creditable record behind them this year as compared to last year's performance. The Phoenix, as the baseball team is called, showed a new spark of life. Under Coach Bob Hagler's direction, they improved greatly from last year's dismal season and left the diamond with nine wins and 19 losses to their credit.

THIS MAY seem unimpressive, however, there was only one senior among the regulars.

With practically the whole squad returning next season the team may regain much of the stature of the Phoenix nines of old. Among the returning veterans will be first baseman Harry Innocenti who was the leading batsman on the team with a .408 average.

The newly formed Swim Team found competition stiff in the beginning of the season but finally settled down to end the season with three straight victories, two of which came at the expense of the San Francisco Olympic Club.

Built around a nucleus of freshmen, the swimmers show much promise. Backstroke Phil Spazek from Santa Monica and distance ace Frank Tamayo from Los Angeles, both freshmen, were the top point makers on the squad.

A SOPHOMORE and freshman-dominated tennis team turned in a three and seven record against some fine competition. Their season was highlighted by a double win over rival USF.

Sophomores Bill Gerth from Los Angeles, Dick Woods from Phoenix, Arizona and freshman Julio Ortega from Los Angeles were the mainstays of the team and will return with six other veterans from this year to form a more powerful squad next season. The most dismal season record was posted by the Gael golfers. Handicapped by inability to participate because of conflicting study schedules, the linkers were never at their full strength. However another young standout was also found in this sport. He is sophomore Bill Cull from Piedmont who led the golf team with a 72 average for the season and finished third in the conference tournament. With six of the first seven men returning next year, the team should be more powerful than this season.

Watch for the New Issue of Suburbia Today

It's that time again! Time for what, you say? Why, time for Suburbia Today—the magazine of pleasant places for pleasant people. It'll be yours again this week with Friday's issue of The Sun—with features and fascinating articles galore.

Remember last month? The Wagon on Wheels? The tribute to mothers? Well, this month is even better.

FOR INSTANCE, there's a story by J. R. Carr entitled I'll Never Commute Again! Most area persons belong to the motor-tribe and Carr's slant will hit them where it concerns them most.

Leisurely mornings... open road ahead. And three hours to the good every day, with a job near home," Carr says. Read Suburbia Today this Friday and find out how Carr licked the problem of the 5 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily freeway grind.

That's just the start, though. VERY interesting is the feature by Lillian Pomplian, What's Ahead for Young Marrieds in Suburbia?

They'll build their home in four or five years, says Miss Pomplian. They also will have 3.4 children in a marriage that should prosper. Suburbia marrieds share in making decisions, Miss Pomplian says, adding that quite likely they won't save much cash.

Then there's quite an item on thievery, "Are you burglar bait?" asks Harold B. Jacobson, pointing up the ins and outs of second-story men.

CHILDREN WILL get a kick out of a spread by T. Morris Longstreth that gives the wee ones their place in the sun. "Let there be space, air, occasional stillness—kittens to love and books to explore—for a child's best summer," says Longstreth.

Recipes make up the centerfold of Suburbia Today. If you'd like party parmesan spirals, you'll find a 15-minute "how-to" for the delicate cheese sticks. Or perhaps you're one for molded lobster elegance, or molded turkey elegance. Maybe you'd like imperial punch or frozen lemon pie. They're all there—and more.

ABOVE ALL, though, don't miss "Disturbia." This ever-popular cartoon page is making its mark throughout the nation. This month it has eight caricature bits—with a laugh curled up in each.

Always interesting, too, is Cross-Country Classified. You'll enjoy the unique items—like the fuse and bulb storer, the gala barbecue candle or the Lapkins. And did you know—it's not too late to plant your rose garden?

So says John Brimer in Suburbia as he tells you how to have a lovely rose garden by planting even in the summer and how to choose your roses. He lists four plans for making the most with what space you have available.

CAPSULE BOOK and record reviews also are an important feature of the magazine supplement. This month there's fine light summer reading, viewing and listening, from "Buffalo Bill and the Wild West" to a new Belafonte album.

Suburbia Today is featured once monthly by The Sun at no extra charge to subscribers. Why not join The Sun's list of readers and find out what fellow commuters have to say throughout the country?

For only $3.75 you can get The Sun and Suburbia Today for a whole year—52 issues in all.

DORRIS DALY

Are you the so called intellectual type? High forehead, the latest in lenses (black rimmed of course) probing mind? Are you casual, pre-occupied and never TOO nattily dressed? . . . You are?

Then you were not among the truly erudite who gathered in the Lafayette home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Bob & Joan) Hughey who were thoroughly fascinated as Professor Goldhaber, an archeologist (retired; University of California) reiterated on his experiences through 40 years of excavations in Egypt.

Joan met the charming Viennese professor while attending a lecture at the University. She was wearing a charm bracelet that boasted of a very special scarab when the bearded and mustachioed gentleman bowed from the waist to say, "If you would be interested, I could produce the mate to your scarab!"

And there was a reason, of course . . .

Now that doesn't happen to everyone, but if you could see Joan, you may understand. . . . No thick lenses here! Joan and Professor Goldhaber had a two hour "chat" that resulted with his visit to Lafayette.

Among the 35 who viewed the slides, etc., were Charlotte and Malcolm Allen, Jeanne & Bud Curtis, Sharon & Don Loeffler, Bev & Bob Grunder, Mildred and Bob Johnson, Joan and Bob Gordon and Naomi & Harold Frisbee.

So you know a brook trout from a steelhead. . . . Can you haul in an Alaskan salmon, hang it in a smoke house or pressure cook it for canning? . . . Just contact Ellen and Les Randall (landscape architects in Lafayette) who are heading north for a two-month vacation for the answers.

These rugged individualists with their friends Sherman and Polly Blaylock of Orinda, will take off with their 16-foot inboard "Audeen" (speedboat) in tow to reach Seattle by auto, launch the "Audeen" at Andacarte for a short 750-mile cruise up the inland passage to Ketchikan, Alaska. There, this fearless foursome will pitch a tent and make camp along a stream on some eight acres belonging to northern friends. . . . Now THAT is fishing!

At nine o'clock last Monday morning, members of the Cardinal Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center wormed their way up to the door of St. George's Hall in Oakland (customers out to the curb) to open the doors of their first rummage sale. Rummaging is quite an art and at day's end, these girls were artists!

All racked up . . . the clothes, that is!

All garments were segregated, racked (hangers, that is) and layered on tables. If you have never worked one of these, you can't know what it is to digest salesmanship, stock work and price-wrangling, all in one day, but this troupe came through with the greenbacks flying.

The president, Carol Hodges (what a merchandiser), hourly lowered the prices on all items . . . switching signs from dollars to cents as the day went on, so that at four in the afternoon the unit closed the doors with the weary but smug smile of success.

Safari anyone? . . . No need to sveltter in the Amazon undergrowth . . . just visit "Africa-U.S.A." as did Moragans Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Peck and their four children while vacationing in Florida. The Peck family can tell you that this fabulous zoo allows the animals to wander about as though in their natural habitats. . . . No mingling with the guests, however.

While Thomas attended conferences in our sister citrus state, Ellen and the offspring visited with Ellen's mother.

More on Moraga: There will be an installations of new officers for the Moraga Mothers Club to be held on June 6 at a luncheon in the El Nido. The incoming officers are as follows: President, Mrs. James Hennessy; vice president, Mrs. Charles Wright; treasurer, Mrs. Rex Collings; recording secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Saxton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Donald F. Scansoon.

It was raining commanders' stripes in the West Room of the Officers Club at the Naval Air Station in Alameda when a "Wet-ting Down" party was held in honor of Lee A. Bagby and Carl Weiss who had recently been made full commanders. There were 250 guests attending and after cocktails and dancing a buffet supper was served consisting of ham, turkey, relishes and other delicacies.

Local residents who attended this gala affair were the Robert Wolfs, Gene Arenas, Robert Appletons, Harrison McIvers, Ted Monks, and Allan Johnsons.

The Bagbys (Lee & Jan) lived in Lafayette until a few months ago, but found that constant commuting to the Naval Station resulted in strain so are now living in Alameda.

What? . . . Christmas talk already!

Seems a bit premature to be thinking of Christmas, but a group of "Fair" minded ladies met at the Walnut Bowl in Walnut Creek to discuss the plans for the "Christmas Fair" to be held there in early December.

Twelve units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center are participating and will stock booths with fascinating items suitable for gifts at that time of year. Keen imaginations produced many exciting ideas as the various units presented their projects that will result in sales for the Yule time fete, which replaces the Gift Box that was housed in a portable building before Christmas.

The over-all chairman is Mrs. Bill Curtis and the committee chairman include Mesdames Richard Emory, co-chairman (Svalow Unit); Phillip Knox Jr., junior chairman (Towhees); King Tolles (Robins) and Edward Lazzareschi (Flamingos) decorations; Floyd Lekse, finance (Flickers); and Walter Reed Jr., publicity (Flamingos).

No one trumps an ace in this group: A bridge club that has been meeting for 30 years had a birthday luncheon at the home of Mrs. Vernon Kerns on Reliez Station Road.

Carl Peterson, Lucinda Rissotto, Joseph Burkhart, George Morrison, Kermit Blodgett, Les Randall (Jr. member) and Mrs. Julia Duggan enjoyed an exchange of gifts as once a year all members honor each other with an all-inclusive birthday party.

Mrs. Kerns had place settings in front of multi-colored frosted coated dolls. The center piece was a large sized doll in pink and white dotted swiss sweets and trimmed in lavender icing from the tip of its parasol to the dainty pointed slippers. . . . All dolls and no dummies participated as rice and chicken curry was served with many extras in buffet style.

Entertainment is the keyword at the Peardale home of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Smetts. The lady of the house (Alice) has a pool full daily from two to four and on weekends is either busy with guests or committee meetings that pertain to her many charitable functions. . . . Last weekend the Smetts entertained Tom and Marie Mackey, ex-neighbors who are up from Los Angeles for a short stay at the St. Francis.

Following this, was a gathering of local friends who represent the Crown Circle branch which helps support the King's Daughters Home in Oakland. The group donated ingredients and culinary skills for a salad-bar luncheon and book review held at the Sail Boat House on Lake Merritt.

Within Alice's Crown Circle from this area were Mesdames George Gessling and Jack Hart of Walnut Creek and Len Clevenger and H. Hunton of Lafayette.

Talk about a busy schedule, yet . . .

Do you feel inadequate when you discover how much other people accomplish in the time it takes you to weed the petunia bed? . . . Don't feel that you are alone. . . . How would you like to interview this couple? Robert Kuhn of Walnut Creek is chairman of the Northern California Section of Forest Products Research Society which is holding a national convention in mid-June in San Francisco, and his wife Barbara is co-chairman of the women's activities.

All that follows, in one day yet: An early morning coffee klatch and bus tour, a continental breakfast followed by a tour of the exclusive San Francisco shops, and then a cocktail cruise on the bay, a fashion show and luncheon at the Hotel Canterbury (clothes from the White House), a tour of exciting Jackson Square—escorted by one of the famous decorators, a banquet at the St. Francis with General Gavin as main speaker, and Barbara also mentioned a Paul Bunyan Cocktail Party which will be sponsored by all the big mills . . . and there is more! . . . Oh well, back to the petunia bed.

Friends Give Welcome For Neighbor

Mrs. Gustave Nordstrom was pleasantly surprised with a housewarming at her beautiful new home overlooking Lafayette, 3673 Boyer Circle, last Thursday.

Mrs. Henry Davis and Mrs. Leland Harmon asked Mrs. Nordstrom's former neighbors to inspect the new home, after which they served light refreshments and much conversation.

Those invited to enjoy the afternoon with Mrs. Nordstrom, were Mesdames Delmas Viale, Manuel Obera, Floyd Morgan, Marie Fullerton, Lola Stevens, Margaret Muller, Fred Rued, Leonard Jones, William Eames, H. B. Robertson, Francis Shrupp, Blaine Burdette, Kenneth Davis and the hostesses, Henry Davis and Leland Harmon.

The group of friends presented Mrs. Nordstrom with a check as a gift for the new home.

Football Is Fine, But Only in Its Place...

Football is a great sport, witnessed by many, but it has its proper place. And that is on the gridiron and in a stadium—not in the chambers of our legislature in Sacramento.

But they play football up there too. They take measures and make "footballs" out of them, and then indulge in punting practice. No touchdowns, and the spectators can only wince, because they lose 90 per cent of the time.

AT PRESENT, the proposed tube crossing under San Francisco Bay has become a political football.

And this is too bad, because it is too important an issue to get sidetracked because of regional or personal feelings.

It might not seem important to a resident of our area, but that proposed tube affects each and every one of us. It is a central link in the proposed five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit System. This system is so tremendous in scope, and the dollar amounts involved so great, that it is difficult to envision it in its entirety.

But this rapid transit system means a great deal to us. It is not only transportation to San Francisco, but through its links and connectors, it is transportation to Berkeley, Oakland and other points.

THIS IS BADLY needed. We are now out of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit district, as far as service is concerned, and our eggs are in the larger basket.

Therefore, we have a personal and pointed interest in this particular political football. It was bottled up in committee for a while, and seemed lost, but it has again been revived.

All kinds of stipulations are tied to the bill. Briefly, it hinges on a bond issue being approved by the public, the prior use of bridge tolls to other projects, and a host of other things.

The essential point is this. This bill should be passed. Nothing can be done until we, the people, vote on it, but we should have that chance.

We can't build enough freeways to handle the traffic. This is becoming increasingly obvious. We must have rapid transit.

Football season should be finished in the legislature. It's our turn to carry the ball.

Just Who's the Boss...?

All chiefs and no Indians... goes the old saying.

This is the position in which the county personnel director finds himself since he has been assigned to the county administration's office.

Theoretically, his "boss" is the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors as interpreted by the county administrator.

On the other hand, all the "personnel" are under the direction of the county civil service commission.

SO HE FINDS himself in the "awkward, if not untenable" position of "being appointed by the county administrator, with the approval of the board of supervisors, but he still must execute the policies and directives of the civil service commission."

The quotes come from statements of the present grand jury which recently released a report through its committee on structure of county government.

This is just an example of the problems caused by a complex county government.

The grand jury, however, offers a solution. The recommendation is that the county civil service commission be made an advisory body to the county administrator and the board of supervisors.

NATURALLY, THIS is a "hot potato." Nobody likes to see control taken from his own group. However, in the name of efficient county government, this seems mandatory.

It has been pointed out that unless the board or the county administrator has the right to hire and dismiss employees, they do not have adequate authority to carry out their responsibilities. Since the authority to administer personnel matters rests instead with the civil service commission, we have, in effect, a two-headed form of government.

This weakness can be solved by transferring the broad administrative powers now held by the civil service commission to the board of supervisors, either directly or preferably to the county administrator.

IN ADDITION, it is recommended that department heads should be withdrawn from civil service jurisdiction and serve at the pleasure of the board and the administrator.

The intention is not to weaken the powers of the civil service commission, but merely to make it an advisory body which will function as such a body should.

The present distribution of administrative authority can only lead to confusion, and a solution should be sought.

Anyone for Sunshine?...

The weather is getting nicer and nicer, and each weekend you see more happy families out together enjoying our wonderful air and our wonderful scenery.

But where are all these happy people going? Chances are they are enjoying their own back yards, or those of friends, because there certainly aren't very many parks around—not enough to take care of our population, that's for sure.

Fortunately, the park picture is changing. Recently a bill passed both the assembly and the senate and has gone to the governor which would permit public reservoirs to be opened for recreation.

PUBLICLY-OWNED reservoirs may be opened for recreational purposes upon petition of the county board of supervisors in whose county the reservoir is located.

The supervisors, however, must first get the approval of the State Department of Public Health.

And then, if the water agency refuses to open the reservoir, the issue goes to a vote of the people in the water district.

What kind of areas do we have around here that fill this bill. Well, there's East Bay Municipal Utility District land and water located in the San Pablo Dam area, Chabot, Upper San Leandro and Lafayette areas.

And eventually there will be the Briones reservoir—and it will be a big one.

RECENTLY the Contra Costa Planning Department presented to the board of supervisors a general park plan, calling for approximately 6800 acres of regional-type recreational facilities of a type that cannot be furnished by individual communities.

We think this master plan is a good idea. Frequently such problems are tackled in hap-hazard manner, without sufficient planning.

BUT IN THE light of the new legislation in Sacramento, wouldn't it be logical to review our thinking on parks?

Certainly much of the East Bay Municipal Utility District watershed and reservoir land can be utilized as park property, and this might well take much of the financial difficulty away from the ultimate park plan realization.

We recommend that a new survey be made in the light of the new legislation, and that our park program be laid out and brought up to date.

Just Don't Call Me...

By DICK OSBORN

Telephone numbers can be pretty funny things.

Now, before I go one single word further, I want Howard Greenhalgh and all my buddies down at the local phone office to know that I think they're fine people.

Well, what I'm driving at is this. My own personal type phone happens to have a number that is just one digit removed from that of the local school district.

NOT ONE DIGIT removed, exactly... just one digit transposed. It's darn near the same number.

Now I happen to be one of those owl-type persons who functions just beautifully when the lights are low and the champagne is flowing like water.

But come the dawn's early light and nobody talks to me. I don't talk to myself for fear of biting myself.

So imagine the following conversation. Sleepy body trying to muster courage to stagger out of bed. Feel awful. Can't taste. Know I have cancer. Eyes full of sand.

PHONE RINGS. Might be emergency. Answer same. Before can croak out greeting, cheerful voice says:

"Hello, this is Mrs. Zilch. Johnny was bitten by a Tse-tse fly and he won't be at school today." Crash!

Stare numbly at receiver and lurch into bath to see if it was really I who answered the phone.

Now, I used to explain to these lovely people that I am not a school district, and that they might try dialing again, but it became hopeless.

NOW I JUST AGREE with them, take the message if there is one, and try to sound like a patient public servant.

I have a whole file of notes, if the local school administration is interested, and wants back information on the mishaps and troubles of some of its charges.

The only encouraging thing is that some of the parents who call in the morning sound like I feel.

There is a discouraging aspect to this, too.

I know what kind of file I have on the workings of the school people as reflected by their incoming calls.

But I'm a little worried. How many of MY calls have they gotten, and what kind of file are they keeping on me?

Best I should leave town, maybe?

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

You are probably aware that Contra Costa County welfare expenditures have risen from some $2,500,000 in 1953 to over $40,000,000. An acquaintance of mine owns a 16-unit rooming house in Richmond. All the renters are on relief. He was telling me about these recent incidents:

1. Renter John Doe could not pay his monthly rent because he had just bought a TV set and his relief check was not quite big enough to handle both. The landlord finally threatened to go to the welfare agency. John Doe said go ahead. He did. The welfare agency raised the monthly stipend for John Doe so he could buy his TV set as well as pay his rent.

2. LANDLORD noticed a new telephone in one of the apartments. Congratulated the tenant. She said that the welfare lady had tried to get her on the phone. Discovering that she had no phone the welfare lady had come out to the apartment and scolded the tenant, saying that all she had to do was ask and they would of course put a telephone in and increase the monthly payments to cover the cost.

3. Renter Richard Roe was doing his own laundry. Welfare agent told him that was entirely unnecessary. They would certainly increase his checks so he could have his laundry done outside.

4. Three unmarried girls share another apartment. They are all classified as unemployed in spite of the fact that they are between 21 and 24 years of age. Apparently they are unemployed because of the regularity with which they have children.

FOR THE landlord this is a happy situation to have 16 renters who have such steady incomes. He lives in Alameda County and chuckles at the suckers who live in Contra Costa County and foot the bills for this kind of nonsense.

If you want these cases verified, I'll be glad to ask the landlord if he would be willing to talk to you directly.

I'm not sending this as a letter to the editor for print, but for your information as fodder. You can print it over my initials if you want, but that wasn't the idea.

GOOD COVERAGE

Dear Editor:

Congratulations on the awards you have received. They were well deserved.

We have enjoyed The Sun each week and appreciate the coverage you give us on the local scene. Particularly do we like the political summarizing that gives us an opportunity to evaluate the candidates and propositions.

A lot of us have no other source of information.

Sports-wise, the coverage of prep football seems fairly presented, considering the many schools involved. That is also appreciated.

Proper tribute was paid the Acalanes Dons for their grand performance in the Tournament of Champions and the coach for his work and conduct.

Keep it up!

REVIEW

Dear Editor:

I recently had the editing experience of reading a dramatic critique of "The Rivals" in The Sun. I should remind the misguided individual who wrote it that:

One does not look for topical interest in an 18th century British play.

One does not presume to seek social "meaning" when attending a play.

One goes with the intention of being entertained. One suspends his disbelief.

One does not use "The play's the thing," out of context for the purpose of producing bromides.

One accepts the affectations of the characters when the author's intention is considered.

One never criticizes that which he obviously does not understand.

ROBERT O'CONNOR

Dear Editor:

At a recent meeting of the city council of Walnut Creek the matter of the annexation of Pleasant Hill came up and I urged the council to go on record then and there, that they would give the voters of Walnut Creek an opportunity to judge this contemplated step and commit themselves to put the matter up for election.

The council passed over the matter.

The question of annexation has been sold very hard to the residents of Pleasant Hill, and some of them have expressed themselves to be in favor (the poll showing that 51 per cent of 40 per cent voting are in favor does not seem overwhelming).

On the other hand, there has been virtually no attempt properly to inform the voters of Walnut Creek as to the pros and cons of this matter.

Is this because we do not have to be consulted? I for one am unwilling to follow blindly the recommendations of the city staff and let the city council determine that my vote in the city affairs is to be diluted to one-fifth.

One councilman expressed the opinion that annexing Pleasant Hill is just like annexing a subdivision of a hundred or so homes.

Such a comparison is preposterous. Perhaps the best analogy is that of a large corporation with many stockholders. If a merger is contemplated, or the directors think it wise to sell to another group, the stockholders are always consulted. It is their money that is involved.

Thus I believe that our corporation, the city of Walnut Creek, owes it to us, the property owners who constitute the city and provide its revenues, to put the annexation of Pleasant Hill before us for a vote. The staff exists to carry on the day to day business of the city and the council to determine policy. I do not believe that they have the moral right, if the legal one, to bypass the voters in this instance.

I do not yet know what my vote would be, but I shall strongly insist on my privilege to be asked.

GUNTHER STEINBERG.

Under The Sun Here's a Problem for the Community, You and Me

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

We read of teen-agers getting into trouble. We hear of this more and more often. Certainly in this area it will continue to increase 1) because of our ever-growing population and 2) because our large number of little kids are becoming big kids.

What is the answer? I don't know. Do you?

We can look to the community for solutions—school, church, recreation, law enforcement and government. Some of the problems must be solved on the community level.

I believe that teen-agers in this area have less attention paid to their recreational needs than any other group of our children. This is a generalization; improvements have been made in recent years.

That same old question:

But today I'll ask the same question I asked in The Sun 13 years ago: What do we expect our high school students to do after night football and basketball games—and where do we expect them to go?

The place for these students to let off steam is a dance at their high school, conducted by the school and parents. This, however, is prohibited by school authorities who have established a "league ruling" against it.

In recent years, recreation agencies and organizations, such as the Jay Ceers, sponsor some dances to fill this need. They are to be commended. But this is not the answer. Let us hope that the schools (working with parents clubs) will assume their responsibility now that sports leagues in this area are being re-aligned. More on this later.

Getting back to the subject...

I am getting away from the thesis of today's column—teen-agers in trouble and what can be done about it.

Community cooperation and action are necessary. But doesn't the real solution rest with you and me as parents? Of course, I'm generalizing. I know of young people getting into trouble when their parents were not at fault one single bit. Let's face it: as parents, we can do the very best job and still our kids can go astray. It is important we realize this.

However, when a teen-ager gets in trouble, the cause can often be traced to his past. We have little kids with little problems. They are not problem children but children with problems—and usually parents with problems. Then, is the time to seek guidance.

This is a mental health problem. It is present in many homes. Our schools have guidance people to help us. Ditto the county and clinics and our psychiatrists. Guidance and early therapy may make a tremendous difference later.

Obviously I am no expert on this subject. Perhaps I don't know what I'm talking about. This column was prompted by a case history of a youngster in trouble. I read the report the other day. See if it doesn't make you think:

John was 16 when he and three companions were arrested in a California community for shooting a man during a liquor store holdup. The man later died.

The eldest of three sons of a high school principal, John had never been in trouble before.

His parents, both "pillars" in their church and community activities, were shocked. The boy was a strict adherent of his family's faith. He was a good student, a Boy Scout, and like his parents, active in community affairs such as teaching swimming lessons to younger children and playing in the community band.

What had happened?

Dr. Carl E. Drake, chief psychiatrist at the Preston School for Boys, recently told delegates attending the closing sessions of the 86th annual National Conference on Social Welfare, that John was "caught in the same trap that holds many of today's teen-age boys."

At Preston, Dr. Drake explained, John was no problem. He conformed to regulations. He did well in shop and in his studies. "But, he was isolated. He was lonely and depressed. Eventually he was referred for psychiatric treatment. We feared," the psychiatrist added, "that he might attempt suicide."

Psychiatric evaluation soon disclosed that John's basic problem stemmed from feelings of inadequacy engendered by an overbearing, authoritative father and a rather weak mother who had high, unrealistic expectations for her son—a boy of average intelligence.

Once the doctors gained John's confidence, he told them in tears:

"At home I feel as though I were locked in a box about three feet tall and two feet wide, and every once in awhile a team of horses would run through, but I couldn't protect myself because I couldn't move."

This, Dr. Drake explained, depicted perfectly the lad's intense inhibitedness.

The stunned father soon yielded his own highly defensive attitude toward his son's crime, and took a second look at himself. When he began to assume some responsibility for his son's problems, the two commenced to develop a relationship on a man-to-man basis.

A long road back

But psychiatric treatment for John must continue for a longtime into the future, Dr. Drake said. "The family has already made plans for this and intend to be involved with him."

John's case is only one of thousands coming to the attention of California's police authorities.

The State Youth Authority is faced with the problem of providing psychiatric therapy for more than 37 per cent of its wards, Dr. Drake explained. Both additional funds as well as new technical staff are needed to effectively deal with the problem.

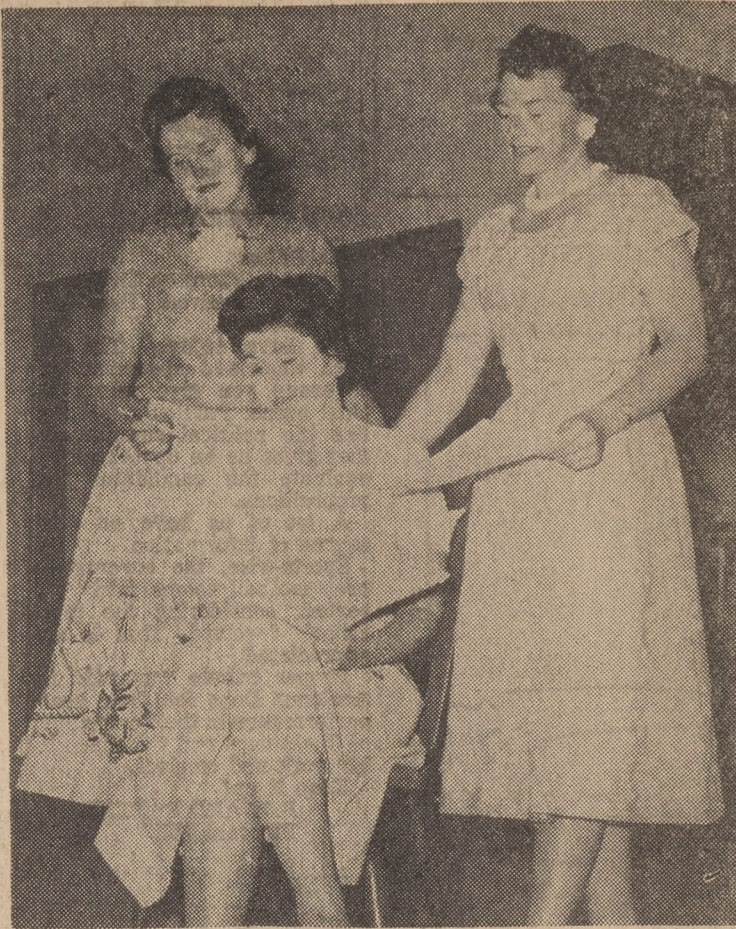

Towhees Plan Annual Dinner Party

The members of the Towhee Unit, Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, recently gathered at the residence of Mrs. Cliff Dahlgren, 5 Oak Knoll Loop, Walnut Creek to complete plans for the annual husband-wife dinner party to be held in September at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Monheit, 1107 Magnolia Lane, Lafayette.

Plans also are in full swing for Towhee's Tinsel Time, the annual holiday tea, to be held November 28 under the chairmanship of Mrs. B. B. Wilder, who promises interesting innovations this year.

Farewells were extended at the meeting to Towhee Pat Raley, who with her husband, John, and children Jackie and Ricky, leave in the very near future to make their home in Amsterdam, Holland.

Mrs. Raley was presented with a handsome piece of luggage as a farewell gift.

Butterfly Fete Heralds Start of Summer Season

By MARIE MONAHAN

Everyone has experienced "butterflies", but none, we'll wager, like the myriad monarchs that graced the gardens of the Murray Lehr home in Lafayette last week during the Butterfly Fete.

Significant of summer, the Butterfly theme was carried out in programs, on table cloths, in floral arrangements, studding the shrubbery and gaily adorning the cabana surrounding the pool. Several members wore them for earrings or tucked tiny net ones into their hair. One of the most appropriate summer frocks was the bare-shouldered organdy worn by petite blonde Betsy O'Neill of Walnut Creek. Its all-over print of big butterfly wings drew many compliments. Lunching with Betsy were Caroline Borden, Sandy Summerfield, Carol Johnson and Bunny Lang, all of Walnut Creek.

The afternoon affair, starting at 12:30 with refreshing servings of Butterfly punch and luncheon at 1, was hostessed jointly by members of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay's Child Development Guild and Jasmine Branch, the latter comprised mainly of young Orinda matrons.

UNDER THE SUN... Mrs. Murray Lehr, three white orchids on her black, brown and white chiffon print, stood with her two young children near the huge sandbox which had been converted into an ice-cream parlor by local performers.

The skaters were applauded loudly for their good sportsmanship, executing their dance routines despite the disappointing outcome of the ice that failed to turn solid and hard due to unforeseen circumstances.

Coming down from the upper terrace to watch the skaters, Arline Colburn and Virginia Englehart, they are making it a group with Elaine Moore, Frances Atherton, Helen Woble.

Lunching together were Irene Wilkinsen and Lafayette member Jean Schlichtmann... Mrs. Ronald Morrison of Pleasant Hill and her guests perusing the slim-jim programs hand-screened with blue butterflies.

Eva Rae Dry-Henrich using her table favor, a pink parasol, to point out her house on the hill above the Lehr's. At HER table, all guests of Jackie Lehr, were recent Lafayette newcomers, Lizanne Bailey, Florence Bette, Frances Dawson and Dorothy Negus.

Busy with greetings was chairman Diana Hutcheins of Orinda, a black cotton shirt-waist with flower applique responsible for her calm-cool look. She and Sally Cathcart were with town guests.

Orindans at another table were Sharlene Hallenbeck, dollar-size black and white polka-dots for her; Pat Carlisle, Lola Burtlenback and Pat Winburn.

Summer fashions by Virginia Hammond's were presented in leisurely manner... Red-headed Gail Richards of Orinda a head-turning model in a watermelon-shade sheath, a huge rose tie for the brief shawl-colored jacket. Gail and her husband Doug left this week for a holiday in Hawaii.

Jasmine member Gloria Rieger, wearing a black and white Mexican weave, was with Jeanie North, the two applauding their fashion-model friends. Mrs. Bruce Howard glimpsed with Mrs. Lloyd Swayne, Mrs. Paul Hammerburg, the trio guests of Mrs. Pierce Lathrop (Betty was ticket chairman).

Applause at every turn for an old favorite, the classic white blazer suit with a jeweled jacket modeled by Marilyn Morken of Lafayette who sported smart red accessories with the perennial ensemble.

A sleek look for Lu Snow, many wanting to look closer at the jewel-trimmed powder blue leather jacket she wore during one of her walks in the sun... Mrs. Ernest Flener and Mrs. W. McLaren of Walnut Creek another duo, ditto Mrs. William Jeffrey of Lafayette, Mrs. Tom Culbertson of Orinda together, Mary Nunan... Mrs. J. J. Moore of Lafayette, Mrs. Frank Hittell, Ann Garry, Connie Stryker and Joan Setzer of Pleasant Hill.

An early departure for Nancy Holliday of Lafayette, whose blue sweater-dress disappeared up the stairs across the lawn (as did we) just as numbers were being called for door prizes.

Members admitted to all sorts of "butterflies" pre-party, but the weatherman curtailed his wind and the result was that the afternoon party came off as summery as the winged creature for which the annual benefit is named.

Ray's Liquor, Area's Newest, Is Now Open

Lafayette's newest liquor store opened last week at 973 Moraga Road in the former post office building.

Known as "Ray's Liquor," the modern store is owned and managed by Ray Neckel.

Formerly owner of a liquor store in Richmond for seven years, Ray Neckel was with Standard Oil Company for 16 years and has owned a service station and a grocery store, in Richmond and Piedmont.

Ray's hobby is fishing and he came to this area for the "climate and the nice people," he says.

A Mason and a member of the Elks Club, Richmond, Ray extends a cordial invitation to Lafayette residents to visit his new up-to-the-minute package store.

Bank Promotes Lafayette Man To New Position

Promotion of a Lafayette resident to assistant vice president in the municipal bond department at Bank of America's head office in San Francisco has been announced.

He is Alan V. Bartlett, 3650 Harvey Court, head of the statistical and research section of the municipal bond department.

Bartlett joined the bank in 1943 after several years in the securities and municipal bond field and has headed the statistical and research section since 1953.

Member of a pioneer Oakland family that moved here from Sacramento in the early 1860's, Bartlett is a graduate of Piedmont high school and attended Stanford University and the University of California.

Bartlett, his wife, Natalie, and children, Karen and Carol, have lived in the Happy Valley section of Lafayette for 11 years.

Assignments of Sixth Graders Are Explained

There will be only one sixth grade class at Merriewood School next fall so some children originally assigned to that school have been reassigned back to Burton School.

This was explained by Ted Collins, Fairview School principal in a letter to parents recently.

Growth in the Burton Valley area is more than was anticipated Collins explained.

Children from the Glenside area were originally assigned to Merriewood but now will attend sixth grade at Burton.

Bank of America Award Won by Diane Olberg

Diane Olberg of Acalanes High School has won a $250 Bank of America Achievement Award.

Diane, 17, of 4146 Los Arabis Drive, Lafayette, was among 36 outstanding finalists out of an original field of more than 28,000 seniors from the Bay Area. Her field is fine arts.

The awards were made at a recognition luncheon held recently in the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco.

Frank M. Dana, Bank of America vice president for operations, presented the awards.

William Koren Gets New Job

Appointment of William B. Koren as buyer of pumps, well equipment, garbage disposers, dishwashers and swimming pool equipment for Montgomery Ward & Co. has been announced by William L. Morris, Ward's heavy lines division merchandise manager.

Koren served with the U.S. Marine Corps during World War II.

I've got a terrible reputation!

I'm known as the most extravagant woman on the block. It all started when Sue, my next-door neighbor, first saw that sumptuous sofa I bought at Sterling. "My dear," said she, "It must have cost a small fortune!" She followed up with a stern lecture on economy while I casually examined my manicure. Even though that sofa does look deliciously expensive, I wasn't going to tell Sue right then and there it was Sterling-priced at only 199.50. (Leave it to me...I'm paying just $10 a month!) Oh, it's fun to be called extravagant when in reality I'm the most budget-minded person in town. Just ask my husband! Don't worry; I'll break down and tell Sue about the wonderful furniture and appliance buys at Sterling. I think everyone should know about Sterling Furniture Stores, don't you?

Catch My Spikes, Farmer Says at Bakersfield Meet

You don't have to be an athlete from a big-time school in the Southland to show your heels to the mob.

This was pointed out very aptly by Dixon Farmer of Miramonte High School in Orinda when he pocketed two titles last Saturday at the State High School Track and Field Championships held in Bakersfield.

Farmer took the 180 yard low hurdles in 19.2 seconds, then nosed out fast-closing LeRoy Whittle in the 440 yard dash to win in 48.6 seconds, the same time as he posted when he won the event last year.

ATHLETES PLACING in events reflected an unexpectedly strong Northern California showing. Whittle, a second in the 440, earlier had lost a place in the 100 yard dash by a whisker.

San Francisco fared about as expected, with Lorrel Anderson, the tiny jumper from Washington, leaping 6-4 1/2 to grab fourth behind the heralded Southern California trio of Paul Stuber, Ray Nickleberry and Joe Faust. Stuber won with a leap of 6-7 1/2.

Alex Darnes of Poly took fourth in the discus with a 159-10 toss.

DAVE DUNBAR of Westmoor won the 880 in 1:53.2, best time in the nation this year.

The smooth-striding Dunbar moved out fast and won by nearly

Miramonte Gets Two Wins In Legion League Opener

Miramonte of Orinda, Concord and Richmond posted a pair of wins over the weekend to set the pace and take top standings as the opening rounds of play got under way last Saturday and Sunday in the American Legion District 9 League race.

In Saturday's play, Miramonte rapped El Cerrito 11-3 in a game played at the Miramonte High field.

THE ORINDA nine outthit the visitors 13-6 in bagging the win while committing six errors to El Cerrito's five.

Jim Tonascia, a promising sophomore, gave up but one run in the first and two in the eighth while his teammates scored three in the first, three in the fourth, along with single runs in the fifth and sixth plus another three in the eighth to notch the win.

BRAD PETERS with three singles in six times at bat and Dave Rhoda with three for three on a pair of singles and a double paced the winners offense.

Orinda wiped up again on Sunday when they edged the Walnut Creek nine 6-5 with a two run burst in the ninth.

Walnut Creek took a 1-0 lead with a run in the first but Orinda scored four in the third to ahead with Bill Welch driving in three of the counters with a timely double.

Walnut Creek knotted the count with three runs in the fifth and went ahead 5-4 with a line run in the eighth.

The Orinda crew decided the game in the top of the ninth when Pete Yedida running for Bob Ellermeyer who walked, scored when pinch hitter Bill Hilger tripled with two strikes on home and two away.

SECONDS LATER Hilger came home with what proved to be the winning run when pitcher Wade Hansen threw wild.

Walnut Creek was ahead 7-3 in the hit department as well as 2-2 in errors committed.

Concord won a pair as they knocked over Lafayette at Concord 7-1 on Saturday and nailed El Cerrito on Sunday as they outscored them 8-4 while out-hitting them 10-6.

El Sobrante rounded out Saturday's play with an 11-0 win over San Pablo.

Prep Sports Season Ends; Football Looms Ahead

By ERWIN MATTSON
The prep sports season wound up last week with track, baseball, swimming, tennis and golf taking their last fling.
The Foothill Division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League ended its first year of competitive play and it is with interest that one can look back at the past year of competition.
MANY COMPARISONS were made regarding the Foothill Division looking ahead when it first came into being. Many so called experts predicted it would be a weak league. Looking back with the record on the books, it makes an interesting story.

The Contra Costa Division was felt by many, to be much stronger but somehow it didn't work out that way.
In football, the one two teams in the Foothill Division, Las Lomas and Piedmont would have given Pittsburg and Diablo all they wanted who ranked the same in the Contra Costa Section.
In wrestling, Acalanes swept to the Division and then outscored everyone in the two division meet after defeating all hands in dual meets.

BASKETBALL found the Foothill section ending up in a three way tie among three fine clubs in Acalanes, Las Lomas and Miramonte.
The Acalanes Dons won a playoff for the Tournament of the Champion berths and did themselves proud as they wound up in second place.
Pittsburg, tops in the Contra

Costa section, fell apart in a tournament at Oroville.

In track, Acalanes and Piedmont were the area's best in variety dual meets while the Acalanes Bee's ran the inter-league title well out in front of the pack.

The standout performer in the State Track Meet was Miramonte's Dixon Farmer, who copped a pair of firsts.

In fact, he was Northern California's best.
Las Lomas had the county's best varsity and Bee swim teams.
The Foothill Division was well in front in tennis and golf.

Diablo won the baseball title without much opposition in the Contra Costa League, while Aca-lanes battled Las Lomas down to the final game.

Las Lomas handed the Devil's their only loss in a 1-0 practice game.

All in all, the Foothill Division did well in their first year of operation.

The "Ivy League" proved to be of the poisonous variety to much of the opposition.

See where Diablo High lost their basketball coach Charley Karpe, moves to San Mateo Junior College as head mentor of the loop sport.

LESS TALK! MORE WORK!
The difficult thing to realize is that another year of prep sports has drawn to an end and that next on tap is football.
Signups and preliminary plans are already underway.
It's later than you think!

Move Over 'Hot Dogs,' Here Comes Clayton..!

Area fans have been waiting a long time to see a home town driver show the "Hot Dogs" some competition. And it looks as if Pleasant Hill's Jack Clayton with the aid of a new car, is going to be the boy.

The car is the Nate-Curran Special, number 16. Owned and operated by Jim Curran of Oakland, and sponsored by Nate's Delicatessen in Lafayette. (So glad to see a local sponsor get a hold of this car, as it looks like a going concern.)

CLAYTON TOOK his first ride in real style by qualifying top fastest. His time was 15.88. Track record is 15.75. Then in the 100 lap main he was in position last in a field of 20 cars. Clayton piloted his way expertly through such traffic as Wally Baker, Gene Dudley, and Leroy Geving to second place.

A spot he held firm until the ninety-third lap when the car heated above 220. He pulled to the infield in the ninety-sixth lap when the radiator hose burst, scalding his feet. If not for this unfortunate occurrence, Clayton might have had a main under his belt.

CONCORD SPEED demon Jack Huddleston did a really great job of driving as well. He took third place in the first heat, and then went on to win the semi-main. It was a beautifully driven race.
Huddleston is showing more style and speed in that yellow number 43 this year, than he ever has in the past. Huddleston will be a likely candidate for the top 10 this season.

Cliff Bennett of Pacheco took fourth in the first heat, and Concord's Doe Payne, in car 41, took second in the second heat.

Lomas.

Two pitchers were placed on the first nine.
THE DONS, in winning the title, posted 11-1 in league play while the Knights wound up 10-2.

The team represents top defense plus an offense that could give a good account of itself with any team in the area.

FIRST AND second team honors went to the following:

Pitchers, Mike Kritscher (A)	Pitchers, Bruce Hancock (M)

'Self Service' New Store Staff Has Experience Initiated by Pay Less

It was April 1, 1932, during depression years that the organization known as the Pay Less Drug Stores made its bid for trade. This was in Tacoma, Washington, the third largest city in the evergreen state, according to Glynn E. Tucker, vice president of the firm. Payless was first to inaugurate "self service" drug shopping. Its start was in a small way with only 6,000 items and a crew of six. Now the items average 50,000 per store and a personnel of 75 to 125 per store. Present stores are located in Oakland, Sacramento, Stockton, formerly of the Sacramento store, now resides in Pleasant Hill with his wife and four children. He has been with Pay Less for 13 years and has been a buyer for many departments. Richard Burson will be a floor supervisor and buyer for the camera and cosmetic departments. He is residing in Concord with his wife and two children. E. J. Alexander, formerly of Spokane, has been working in the capacity of store opening supervisor. Alexander has been with the Pay Less Drug Stores for 13 years as buyer, advertising manager and manager of a branch unit. He now resides in Walnut Creek with his wife and four children. Ready for an A Bomb? Do you keep your car gas tank 1/2 full? Have you emergency food and water for 7 days?

You Name It--It's Here! Claims Pay Less Market

"We don't cater to anyone but the shopper!" So says Bud Semrau, manager of the new Pay Less Supermarket, a division of the new Pay Less Shopping Center on the Contra Costa Highway in Pleasant Hill. By this statement Semrau means that he has no axes to grind—no special lines to feature. "We have nothing to do but please the customer," he adds, "and we have a new concept here in suburban merchandising!" THE PAY LESS Supermarket offers a complete line of groceries, highlighted by a large dietetic section, varied produce selections—with the spotlight turned on every leading canned goods and food line in the country. "You name it—we got it," Semrau says. "This is the ultimate in suburban shopping." The supermarket handles nothing but USDA choice meats. "We are very proud of our meat department," Semrau points out. THE NEW shopping center has 52,000 sq. ft. of space, with 24,000 sq. ft. being devoted to the supermarket. space of 16,000 sq. ft., Semrau says, adding that most customers seem to like the spaciousness of the store. The roominess also extends into the center's parking area where there is space for 425 automobiles.

SF Hit Comedy Is Limited to Three Week Run

Marjorie Lord, the well known star of stage, screen and TV, comes to the Alcazar Theatre in San Francisco co-starring with Fernando Lamas in that exciting New York comedy hit "Once More, With Feeling."

The engagement in San Francisco of "Once More, With Feeling" is limited to three weeks due to the fact that Miss Lord must resume her TV role in July, also to the fact that Fernando Lamas is to be seen in a new TV series

Hydrangeas Appear to Get More Beautiful Each Year

The nice thing about old fashioned hydrangeas and the newer hardy deciduous French hybrids is: They get better all the time.

Or maybe it just seems that way. Maybe something of this sort runs through our mind when we see a good platter-sized hydrangea bloom: "If hydrangeas have always been so good, why isn't our whole yard planted to them?"

ACTUALLY, the truth must lie in between.

It's true that hydrangeas are getting somewhat better all the time as growers constantly propagate only the very best stock. But it's also true that hydrangeas have always been good—big and showy, heavy on bloom.

Trouble is, we take them for granted in California and only occasionally realize what we miss by not planting more of them.

Any garden with a reasonable amount of shade or part shade should have hydrangeas. And any gardener should be willing to water them enough to coax the best out of them.

These are the two requisites to proper hydrangea culture. Near the coast you can get away with less of either or both. But inland and in warmer areas, you need plenty of shade and plenty of moisture to keep them happy.

THE PREFERENCE is for a loose rich soil. It should be on the acid side if you want blue flowers. A hydrangea, in this case, reacts the opposite of litmus paper. So stay clear of peat or other acid material in the soil if you want

Girl Scout Camp Program Described by Chairman

With the opening of camping season on June 29, another chapter will be written in the success story of the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council.

According to Mrs. Emerson Hall, of Reiter Valley Road, there are close to 2,000 volunteers working in this council, in addition to the professional year-round staff.

As campership chairman, Mrs. Hall (Jeannette) reviews applications for partial financial aid to girls who wish to go to Sierra Woodlands, but require funds.

Applications are made by parents who fill out a request form and present it to their daughter's leader.

The leader forwards the request, with a letter of application, to the chairman, where the final decision is made.

Said Mrs. Hall, "There is a definite need to assist these girls, who otherwise couldn't go to camp."

She lists illness of parents, unemployment, fatherless homes as some of the reasons for the fund, and estimates that some twenty-seven partial camperships were granted last year.

"Service clubs and professional groups donate to this fund. Among those who have contributed are the Lions Club, Kiwanis, PTA, Rotary and the Chamber of Commerce," she explained.

Mrs. Hall has been campership chairman for the past three years, and is also a member of the finance committee. "You'd be surprised how they watch the pennies," she confided.

A trim, vivacious woman with alert hazel eyes, Jeannette Hall told how she became a volunteer worker for the scouts. Her story is typical.

"I was never a girl scout myself. My daughter got me started—at first assisting at meetings, then for a while I led a patrol."

"Later I served as neighborhood chairman and district chairman for Lafayette."

"After that I worked as chairman of the field committee, and then was appointed to this job."

The Halls have lived here for fourteen years, and twelve of them have seen Jeannette working for the Scouts.

She finds the work interesting, exciting, and sometimes harassing.

To illustrate the last point, she told us of the beginning of the Sierra Woodlands camp.

"We leased property from the national park, since we had no funds to purchase. We had land, but no buildings. And no money. The girls slept on the ground, you know, but some buildings are necessary.

"Then a construction company leaving the area donated their buildings to us—but we had no means of moving them to our site."

"It was just too good an opportunity to miss, and finally it was done by donations and volunteer workers."

That was about ten years ago. Today the camp on Packer Creek is a settled one, with crews of volunteers going in to clear out winter debris and repair equipment on work weekends before the season begins.

"Twin Canyon Camp was tough and go for a while, too," Mrs. Hall told us, speaking of the day camp on Springhill Road, which was acquired five years ago.

"The San Francisco Foundation gave us money to buy it, and offered an additional sum if we could match it."

"We threw together a tea and fashion show to raise the money, and it was a tremendous success."

She considers parent participation most important.

"Leaders should provide opportunities for them to come to meetings. Parents want to know what's going on," she said.

Men Take Part In Navy Reserve Readiness Plan

Contra Costa county men had a two-day preview last weekend of the role they will play in the event of general mobilization or enemy attack upon the United States.

They are members of special attack units from Naval Reserve Submarine Division 12-9 who took the Guppy-Snorkel submarine the USS Pomfret to sea for Operation Readiness training.

THE DIVISION is commanded by Commander John Carolan, 3444 Solana Court, Lafayette, who, as officer-in-charge of Saturday's attack unit, corresponded to the captain of the submarine.

Also taking part in the two-day exercise were Lt. Commander E. G. Welch, 1248 Panorama Drive, and Lt. E. S. Hightower, 2842 Wilkinson Lane, both of Lafayette; Chief Petty Officer Gordon S. Solain, 371 Cordelia Way and Mark Ivory, 111 Polley Lane, both of Walnut Creek.

WHEN NOT drilling aboard operating submarines at sea, the division drills one weekend each month aboard the reserve training submarine USS Parche

Therapists Get Help Landscaping

Once more the community has risen to the whole-hearted support of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center by contributing volunteer labor and equipment to begin the project of landscaping the four-acre site located at 100 Golf Club Road, Pleasant Hill.

It was a busy Saturday as volunteers trucked and distributed 700 yards of top soil donated by "Spike" Spittler of Orinda.

On hand with shovels were board members Walter Weinheimer and Julian Ramelli while the Mesdames Falconer, Parker and Simonds served refreshments throughout the day.

PARTICIPATING contractors included James Simonds and William H. Mattos Company of Lafayette; Martin Brothers and Norman Engineers, of Concord; Gallagher and Burk, Inc., and Sven Danielson of Walnut Creek.

To date plant materials and funds have been pledged by the Walnut Creek Garden Club, Concord Garden Club, Bob-O-Links, Diablo Garden Club and the Walnut Creek Rotary Club.

According to James Simonds, chairman of the landscaping committee of the board of directors, completion of the project will depend largely upon additional community contributions.

Interested individuals and groups may contact the center's administrator, Juanita Benoy.

Supervisors Hear Morgue Needs 4th Straight Year

"Let's keep the ambulance business out of county politics!" That, in effect, was the recommendation of a citizens committee headed by District Attorney John Nejedly when they said that Contra Costa County should temporarily continue appointing morticians as deputy coroners until a central morgue and medical examiner service can be set up.

The county coroner should be authorized to refuse to deputize any mortician having any connection with an ambulance service, said the committee.

THE RECOMMENDATION would affect several deputy coroners who operate ambulance services in conjunction with their funeral parlors.

The recommendation stemmed from various protests that a person answering an ambulance call has a better chance when the time comes to select a mortician in a coroner's case.

All county morticians at present are deputized as coroners. The county should make every effort to allow friends and relatives to select a mortician, in cases where this could not be done, the mortician in the area where death occurs should be called.

CASES, SAID the committee, also should be rotated among morticians in areas where there is more than one establishment. The committee study had been pushed—and ordered—in the wake of complaints by some morticians that they had not gotten their fair share of coroner's cases. Other recommendations by the committee included one that the responsibility for investigating deaths where criminal cause is suspected, shall be transferred to the police agency having jurisdiction and the district attorney's office.

The coroner's investigation should go in relation with these, the committee said.

THE COMMITTEE also recommended that the county make efforts to set up a central morgue, but continue to appoint morticians as deputies until the new system comes about.

The Board of Supervisors for three years has turned down requests to set up the morgue, arguing that the system would be more expensive than using private morticians.

The committee presented its recommendations to supervisors this past Tuesday.

These are among questions being answered by Edmund S. Barnett, hospital fund campaign general chairman; Bruce Copeland, Dr. Frederick M. Hanson, and Dr. Harold S. Robinson, chairman and members of the hospital board of trustees, speaking before area organizations.

Whereas a minimum of 200 beds per thousand population is recommended by State Bureau of Hospital standards, or 468-702 beds for the population of Contra Costa County, this service area actually now has only 206 beds available, Barnett says.

WHEN CURRENT expansion programs at Concord General and Kaiser Foundation hospitals are completed, he points out, only 264 beds will exist. This explains why bed patients often must be cared for in corridors, and why sometimes patients and doctors are forced to travel in to Berkeley and Oakland hospitals . . . frequently in a virtual race against death, and always with loss of professional time valuable to other patients.

John Muir Memorial Hospital will be centrally located on Ygnacio Valley Road near Walnut Creek, easily accessible by existing and planned freeways and highways to every section of the county, Barnett says. It will be a Class A hospital, equipped and staffed for every modern medical and surgical procedure.

It is to be a non-profit, non-sectarian community hospital, belonging to the people of the area it serves, Barnett reminds. Public contributions will finance its construction without formation of a hospital tax district, and without issuing stocks or bonds.

FOR COMMUNITY representation in administration, provision is made for public voting for hospital trustees. Anyone pledging three dollars per month in a $100 or more total contribution will be entitled to vote for the governing board of trustees, which will employ the administrator and be responsible for the hospital's business policies, Barnett adds.

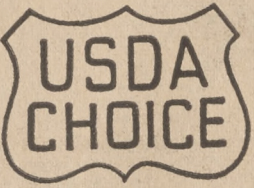

Building is to begin this fall on the first 50-bed unit, designed for future multi-story and horizontal expansion to 150 or 200 beds.

Members of the Danville, Walnut Creek, and Orinda Rotary Clubs, Pleasant Hill Lions Club, Lafayette Soroptimists, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill Kiwanis, Concord Optimist, Danville Grange, and High XII groups already are scheduled for talks.

Scheduling may be arranged through the 1953 Locust Street volunteer office.

RICE A BRIBE
The custom of throwing rice at a wedding may have originated as a bribe.

According to the World Book Encyclopedia, rice may have been an offering to evil spirits to persuade them to stay away from the newly-weds.

"BE PREPARED FOR ACCIDENTS" is the slogan for these Boy Scouts of Orinda Troop 244 as they start a house-to-house drive to campaign for complete first aid kits in every home. The boys start tomorrow on their rounds. Scoutmaster Harold Libbey supervises, left to right, "Chip" Gardner, Walter Ammon and David Candia as they pack their bags with first aid emergency kits.

Scouts Begin Be Prepared For Accidents Campaign

Starting tomorrow Boy Scout Troop 244 will conduct a house-to-house "Be Prepared for Accidents" campaign in Orinda. Members of the group will visit every home in the community. They will present the homeowner with a first-aid chart showing approved procedures for dealing with various types of accidents. The boys offer to assist the homeowner in checking his first-aid supplies to determine whether his home is adequately stocked for accident emergencies. WHERE inadequacies are revealed, the members of the group will be able to offer a selection of first-aid kits so that residents may choose the kit that best meets his needs. Kits designed for use inside or outside the home will be available. Auto kits, travel kits and kits suitable for the hunter and fisherman will be included in the selection. THE FIRST AID kits are supplied by Johnson & Johnson, the world's largest manufacturer of surgical dressings. Profits realized on the sale of the kits will be used to meet the costs of a variety of activities. Harold Libbey, scoutmaster, says, "We hope our campaign will alert our entire community to the importance of being prepared to give accident injuries prompt first aid."

Rosalie Guarneri Feted At Pre-Nuptial Showers

A series of surprise showers has been tendered Rosalie Guarneri of Orinda in advance of her June 21 marriage to Ronald Keeler at Orinda Community Church. Forty relatives and guests attended the most recent shower at Kirby's Restaurant in El Cerrito. The luncheon shower was jointly hosted by three cousins of the bride-to-be, Mrs. James Habbestad of Berkeley, Mrs. Vincent Liotta of Berkeley and Mrs. Charles Alameda of Orinda. Another shower was sponsored by Mrs. Robert O'Brien (Karen Kooyman) and her mother, Mrs. P. C. Kooyman. Mrs. Charles Alameda was hostess for the third shower.

Mrs. Graber Hostess for Patio Party

Pink and red balloons will add a festive note to the patio party to be given by Linda J. Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, at the Orinda home of Mrs. Victor H. Graber tomorrow. Now chairman of her branch, Mrs. Graber was runner up in the contest for queen of the Pacific which the Children's Hospital branches staged last fall. Co-chairman for the party are Mrs. Philip Bush of Orinda and Mrs. William E. Russell of La-Pacific which the Children's Lewis is assisting them handling food preparation. Charcoal braziers will be set up in the patio and guests will be invited to "serve yourselves." Mrs. James Chapple of Orinda and Mrs. Harold K. Johnson of Lafayette are in charge of decorations.

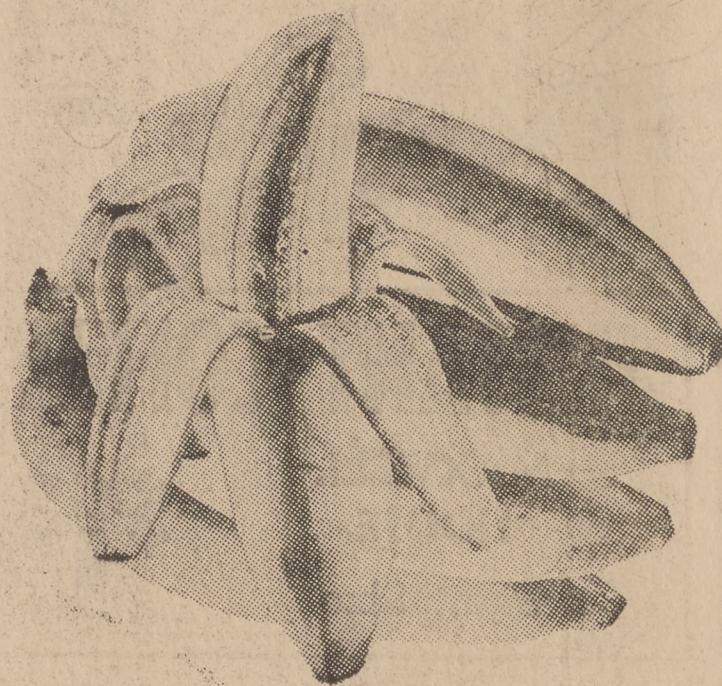

Pandora Chapter Introduces New Officers

Pandora Chapter of Children's Home Society in Orinda held their final meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Albert McCann on Van Tassel Lane, Monday. The new officers for the coming year were introduced and are: president, Mrs. Riddley Greathouse; vice president, Mrs. Lew Doty; treasurer, Mrs. L. Conway Smith; secretary, Mrs. Albert McCann; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Carl Davis; past president, Mrs. Robert Hendrickson; ways and means, Mrs. Jack McCorkle; membership, Mrs. Robert Goodale; volunteer, Mrs. James Barclon; telephone, Mrs. Leland Nelson; publicity, Mrs. Edward Walsh; sewing, Mrs. John Sullivan; bridge clubs, Mrs. Glen Smith; memorial, Mrs. Roy Beckett; birthdays, Mrs. John Gilcrest. Plans were formulated for the annual cocktail party to be held for members and their guests on September 12. Following the business meeting luncheon was served around the pool and a swimming party held. Ready for an A Bomb? Do you keep your car gas tank 1/2 full? Have you emergency food and water for 7 days?

Dick Dickie Will Marry Miss Skuce

Guests invited to a cocktail party heard the news that Richard Dickie and Sylvia Skuce are engaged to be married. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Skuce of San Leandro, Sylvia attended San Leandro High School. Dick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Dickie of 15 Via Floreado, Orinda. The party was held at the home of the bride-elect's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Klein, 26 Estates Drive. Dick attended Acalanes High School and is now a student at Oakland City College. Carl Delaval invented the centrifugal cream separator in Sweden in 1876.

Phoners Seek Inspiration; But Get Miller's Instead

The telephone kept ringing all day and Herb Miller of Miller's Store for Men, 229 Brookwood, was baffled, bewildered and quite bothered.

"I kept answering the phone with my usual 'Good morning, this is Miller's Men's Shop,' and all I got was a horrid gasp at the other end of the line," he explained.

"Then a voice would say, 'Isn't this the prayer minister?' and I'd tell them I am an innocent bystander and have customers waiting. And they'd hang up!" he told The Sun.

The Sun staff was just as puzzled but after many a phone call and sleuthing on the part of reporters the mystery was solved. It developed that St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Oakland has a phone number to call where a recording by the pastor is played, giving an inspirational message.

The number is OLYMPIC 4-4701.

For some reason, Orindans dialing the number got through to Herb Miller's line—CLifford 4-3371.

THEY EXPECTED inspiration and got Herb.

Mr. & Mrs. Contra Costa Tell Market Survey Facts

Hi, folks. I'm Mr. and Mrs. Central Contra Costa County. I'm not really a couple, though. I'm a personification—an entity. Just a guy and a gal, with two kids and sometimes three—and I like to think I'm here, there and everywhere.

I guess I'm really you, but I have no name. Mostly I'm just a picture, making a little over $7,000 a year and commuting back and forth to work in a city somewhere.

DON'T GUESS you really would have known me—except for one thing. The Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce, acting in co-sponsorship with the City of Walnut Creek, has just analyzed and torn me apart.

They've just published the Central Contra Costa County Market Survey. It makes me a typical picture—one area businessmen thought should be placed on exhibit.

I thought you folks should get a chance to see it, too. So here I am, and I hope seeing me pleases all of you.

MARKETEERS visited me in over 2,000 places among the 40,000 places I live close to Walnut Creek. They asked me many questions. Wanted to know my background, shopping habits, my likes and dislikes — and what I thought about the services the area had to offer.

Business men found that, like I said, I belong to a race of commuters. I don't rent, either. Mostly I own my own home. I like a touch of solidarity, you see.

Outside of the part of me that lives in multiple dwellings, 87 per cent of myself owns homes. Only 13 per cent of me rents. They don't mean anything, though — because 43 per cent of my renting part plans to buy homes within the next five years.

What kind of homes do I own? WELL, marketeers visited 780 pieces of me in homes valued at under $15,000. They came to see me in 514 homes valued at $15,000 each, and in 471 in the $20-30,000 bracket. They also found me in 116 homes costing over $30,000 and in 150 multiple dwelling units.

Most of me came to the county area for different reasons — the climate, attractiveness of the area, country living, and because no other area offers these things so handily and conveniently.

It's so easy to get back and forth to work from here, most will agree. Especially when you own 1.74 cars per family like I do.

We commuters are well-educated, too. Over 90 per cent of us finished high school, and 44 per cent have had junior college training.

SOME 28 per cent of us, too, have a university education, and eight per cent have one or more years of graduate work.

This is reflected in our work, because largely we are in professional, administrative or white-collar capacities.

Leading our occupational traits are professionals with 22 per cent; managers, officials and proprietors gave 18 per cent; sales workers account for 13 per cent also, and clerical and like workers have 13 per cent of me.

Where do I work? ABOUT A third of me works in Oakland, with 13 per cent of the rest employed in San Francisco.

Ten per cent of me stays in Walnut Creek, nine per cent goes to the Avon-Martinez area, and eight per cent drives to Concord.

The rest of me works various places—in Richmond, Danville, San Ramon, Pittsburg-Antioch, and other close-by areas in northern California.

Generally, though, considering that I work elsewhere, I shop in the immediate area. Over half of me shops in Walnut Creek. Over 20 per cent of me shops close to where I live, and 23 per cent of me travels to Concord.

ONLY 12 PER cent of me shops in Oakland and San Francisco.

Chances are, too, that I'll make a major purchase in the area soon. Some 22 per cent of me will make a considerable investment in furniture, and 18 per cent of me will buy a new automobile.

Mostly I find my retail, professional and service sources quite satisfactory, except for a couple of things.

I'd like additional recreation facilities in some areas, and I'd like a bus service between my home area and downtown Walnut Creek.

SPECIFICALLY in recreation I'd like a new motion picture theater, some legitimate theatre, a teenage center, and an auditorium, some more parks, playgrounds and swimming pools.

Many county services could be improved in my unincorporated areas. But the part of me living in Walnut Creek is satisfied with most public services.

In other words, my Mr. Walnut Creek thinks his fire protection, planning, policing, schools, hospital, postal, governing and other services good.

These are important too, because I'm a growing concern — both growing and growing up.

OVER 40 per cent of my kids are in the 5-11 year bracket. They're growing up, they need services. And more of us move in every day.

That's why I've told you about the survey. I like the idea. I think it points up things good, things needed. I think it makes specific recommendations in some places.

Know why? I hope they're heeded, too.

Orinda Beautification Plan is Lauded by C.A.N.

The California Association of Nurserymen has given recognition to the Orinda Beautification program in its publication, "Plant California Today."

Here are excerpts from the story carried in that brochure:

"This is the true story of what happened last year in the little suburban community of Orinda."

"It is a story with a moral, for it illustrates how the inspiration of one individual and the efforts of many can bring about some truly amazing results."

"One of the members of the Orinda Garden Club had long been a proponent of community beautification."

"Appearing before the local Chamber of Commerce, she outlined an ambitious three-point program."

"(1) Planting specimen shrubs in redwood tubs along the main thoroughfare to encourage more foot traffic for the local merchants and make shopping in Orinda more desirable. (2) Planting trees at the entrance to Orinda to screen out the parking areas and make an inviting place to turn off the highway (3) Beautifying the new freeway."

"The Chamber eventually adopted the idea and called on a local landscape architect to draw up the plans."

"At this time, the two local Orinda service organizations, Rotary and Lions, were contacted. The aid of the women's clubs was enlisted."

"It was decided to tackle the business thoroughfare first, since these specimens in redwood tubs would be something prominent that everyone could see. Christmas-time was approaching."

"It was suggested that the businessmen — instead of erecting temporary holiday decorations — skip the tinsel and baubles and contribute something of lasting value to the community, namely the plantings in redwood tubs."

"A small sub-committee of businessmen went to work. The subject was given publicity in the Orinda Sun. The Boy Scouts assembled the tubs."

"They were decorated with red plastic bows contributed by the Orinda Art Center. The Junior Chamber of Commerce assisted in the planting and the Fire Department took charge of watering."

Y'all Come On, Say Wheelers

The Walnut Creek Square Wheelers will hold their monthly intermediate fun level hoedown tomorrow at Parkmead Elementary School.

Dancing will be from 8 p.m. to midnight—good floor, good sound. Guest caller will be Dave Byers of Oakland, with Mrs. Olga Cary in charge of refreshments.
